

JOHN GOODIN

Chief

Wetlands and Aquatic Resources Regulatory Branch
Wetlands Division, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

John is a biologist with EPA's Wetlands Division who has been serving as Chief of the Regulatory Branch since May 1997. John has worked in the Wetlands Division for more than ten years --his previous areas of responsibility have included issues related to Alaska wetlands, forested wetlands, dredged material management, nationwide permits, and a variety of other regulatory and policy issues. John holds a B.S. in Biology from the University of Richmond and a M.Sc. In Zoology from the University of Western Australia.